M.C. Rules, 1981, r 70)

I live at the above address but on Saturday, 16th November 1985,
I was visiting my mother and father at Section 40 Cowcliffe, Huddersfield.

Section 40 is situated at the top of a hill and overlooks the valley in which Huddersfield Town Centre is situated. Directly across is a range of hills that make the opposite wall of the valley. Slightly to the right is Castle Hill. The house faces South. There are no nearby objects.

About 8.20 pm on this day as a result of something my mother said I looked towards the window and saw in the sky about an angle of 30 degrees above the eye level, two bright lights close together like car headlights. The objects were brighter and larger than the stars but not as large as a full moon. They were the brightest things in the sky at the time. I could not tell if these lights were attached to an object because the lights were too bright.

When I first saw these objects I was indoors looking through the window. The objects were at first stationary.

The lights appeared to be beyond the opposite valley wall. I opened the window and the lights were exactly the same when I had first seen them.
