M.C. Rules, 1981, r 70)

I am a housewife at Section 40 ..... Cowcliffe, Huddersfield, with my husband, Section 40 ..... and my daughter, ..... of 13 years.

Section 40

On Saturday, 16th of November 1985, I was at home in my lounge watching the television. It was about 8.20 pm, I know the time because I was watching 3-2-1 on television.

At this time I could see out of my lounge window, and had an excellent view of the sky over Huddersfield in a southerly direction.

My attention was drawn from the television to two bright white lights shining in the sky directly in front of our house, and I would say to the East of Castle Hill, over Almondbury. The lights were well clear of the land horizon. I could see Castle Hill light and it was lower than the lights in question.

The lights were like a pair of car headlamps very bright and close together. They remained still in the same position for a few minutes so I called my husband and two daughters, Section 40 .....

Section 40 was visiting us.

When I first observed the lights I was sitting still in an armchair.

I then went to the window and called my husband, Section 40 .....
to have a look at the lights.

The light remained in position without moving for about five minutes.

I opened the lounge window and looked at the lights without the restriction of the window.
