

I rushed to my mother and father who were reading a book in bed and called "quick, quick look out of the window," they took so long getting out of bed, when I looked out of the window again to my dismay the wonders had gone. I was so disappointed that they did not see it, as now, who is to believe me.

I saw it in the direction from our home on Section 40 to Chobham, and they seemed much further away behind Chobham.

I promise that this is what I have seen and I am no dumb twit.

What strikes me is your perhaps uncanny guilelessness on the subject of UFO's towards the people of this country. This is bound to make many jump to all kinds of conclusions as to why this is so, and perhaps to the wrong conclusions too.
